EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP AND POLICY STUDIES (ED.D.)

Admission Requirements

Both the Doctor of Education program and the Doctor of Philosophy program in Educational Leadership and Policy Studies require a master's degree from an accredited institution or 30 graduate semester hours beyond the bachelor's degree from an accredited graduate school with no grade lower than 'B' and a graduate GPA of at least 3.50. In addition, an Autobiographical Statement to include career/academic goals and research interests (1000–1500 words), three recommendations (two professional and one academic), and an interview may be required.

The Doctor of Education program is primarily for practicing educational administrators and as such requires demonstrative leadership experience with adults as a prerequisite for admission. This program is offered with a concentration in higher education administration.

The general requirements for the degrees are stated in the College's Academic Regulations (http://bulletins.wayne.edu/graduate/college-education/academic-regulations). In addition, all students must complete at least a sixteen-credit sequence in the major. Specific requirements for the major are determined in consultation with the assigned advisor. A minimum six credits is required in doctoral seminars for non-majors. The research courses required are:

- EER 7630 Fundamentals of Statistics 3
- EER 7650 Computer Use in Research 3
- LDT 9110 Advanced Research Seminar and Practicum 4 or EER 8992 Research and Experimental Design

In addition, the Ed.D. student will take either EER 7870 or EER 8800. All course work must be completed in accordance with the academic procedures of the College of Education (http://bulletins.wayne.edu/graduate/college-education/academic-regulations) and the Graduate School's (http://bulletins.wayne.edu/graduate/general-information/degree-certificate-requirements) regulations governing graduate scholarship and degrees.
