

CERAMICS MINOR

The ceramics minor offers undergraduate students the opportunity to supplement their major field of study with a rigorous investigation of the ceramic material. Lower level coursework provides students with a foundation of art and an introduction to ceramics in effort to prepare them for more advanced courses. Students have the option of taking upper level coursework that explores sculptural and conceptual concerns and/or productions skills and functional ceramics.

Students pursuing the ceramics minor must complete 18 credits as specified below.
