

LATINO/A AND LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES (CO-MAJOR)

Completion of the Center's Co-Major Program leads to a co-major degree in the field of Latino/a and Latin American Studies. This multidisciplinary program of study is designed to strengthen the career preparation of students in all majors who plan to work in national and international multicultural environments where knowledge about Latin America, the Caribbean, Latino/a Studies, and multicultural diversity would be a valuable asset. Completion of the co-major is noted on the student's transcript. Students submit a Declaration of Major Form at the beginning of their junior year.

Co-Major Requirements

Students must complete fifteen credits in the following core courses and a minimum of eighteen credits from the list of elective courses. Appropriate courses may be substituted with the prior approval of the Center's Director.

Code	Title	Credits
Core Courses
Select five of the following:		15
LAS 2100	Chicano/a Literature and Culture
LAS 2110	Puerto Rican Literature and Culture
LAS 2410	History of Mexico
LAS 2420	History of Puerto Rico and Cuba
LAS 2430	History of Latino/as in the United States
LAS 3610	Seminar in Latino/a Urban Problems
Elective Courses
Select eighteen credits of the following:		18
ANT 3220	The Inca and their Ancestors
ANT 3540	Cultures and Societies of Latin America
PS 3735	Politics of Latin America
SPA 4630	Introduction to Colonial Latin American Literature
or SPA 4640	Introduction to Modern and Contemporary Latin American Literature
SPA 5560	Spanish American Cultures and their Traditions
SPA 6600	Colonial Latin American Studies
SPA 6610	Latin American Novel to 1900
SPA 6620	Latin American Novel in the 20th and 21st Centuries
SPA 6630	Spanish American Poetry
Total Credits		33