Among their elective requirements, students must have a minimum of one course that is counting towards the PCS minor requirements and not fulfilling any other major, minor, or co-major requirement. Electives may be selected from the approved elective course list, or from other curricula, with approval of the Peace and Conflict Studies Director.

Peace and Conflict-Related Elective Courses

The University offers a large number of conflict- and peace-related courses in its various Schools and Colleges that are suitable electives for this program. The student is encouraged to select courses that introduce them to a variety of cultural practices regarding the management of conflict. The following are appropriate for the co-major or minor; because new courses are created by faculty on a rolling basis, students are encouraged to consult with the director or the undergraduate advisor about any courses not on the following list which may be included in their major.
